

Heart of England Cycling Rally – 15th to 16th May 2010

Organised by CTC Heart of England Member Group

Cyclists' Memorial Service – Meriden

Meriden is a village and civil parish in the Metropolitan Borough of Solihull, West Midlands, England. It is located between Solihull and the city of Coventry, and is approximately 10 km (6 miles) from Birmingham International Airport.

Many will know that Meriden is famous for being the geographical centre of England but how many are aware that it is also the location of the National Cyclists' War Memorial?

Erected on Meriden Green in 1921 "to the lasting memory of those cyclists who died in the Great War" the first service there attracted an estimated assembly of 20,000 cyclists. A bronze plaque was added in 1963 to commemorate those cyclists who died during World War Two and a further plaque covering more recent conflicts is currently under consideration. The Memorial Service has been held every year in May and is part of the Heart of England Cycling Rally, a weekend of Audaxes, led rides and quite a bit of eating and drinking it seems.

And so on Sunday 16 May 2010, the day following the National Dinner, two thirds of the winning CTC Tourist Competition team attended the Memorial Service.

Now, the Wrexham Reivers/ CaféHoppers don't travel anywhere unless there are Tourist Competition points available and although none accrued from the Service (not in this life anyway), nor from the cakes and hot drinks afterwards, they did from the Treasure Hunt in the afternoon with Lowri Evans coming second to (inevitably) Mike Batchelor and Andy Polakowski third.

CYCLISTS' WAR MEMORIAL

TO THE LASTING MEMORY OF THOSE CYCLISTS WHO DIED IN THE GREAT WAR 1914 - 1919' is the inscription on the memorial.

After an idea by the late Mr 'Bidzy' Bidlake, an executive committee was formed in 1919, and in less than a year, £1,200 was raised from cyclists and cycling organisations throughout Britain.

On May 21st 1921 in the radiance of the lowering sun at six o'clock before an estimated assembly of 20,000 cyclists, Lord Birkenhead, the Lord Chancellor unveiled the Memorial. The Green was packed as far as the eye could see, the throng overflowed on both sides of the highway, all traffic ceased, the thousands of visiting cyclists had parked their machines in adjacent meadows. Buglers sounded the last post, afterwards the reverend S. G. Boucher, who had been a most generous patron of the memorial fund, read a simple dedicatory prayer. Afterwards the school children of the village led the vast throng in the singing of the Doxology to the tune of the Old Hundredth, and with the pronouncement of the Benediction, the official proceedings were concluded. There followed an informal laying of wreaths at the foot of the memorial by representatives of clubs and organisations including the CTC, NCU and many D.A.s of the CTC. There was among them a Royal decorated racing wheel, from the cycle of one of the unnamed heroes who had fallen.

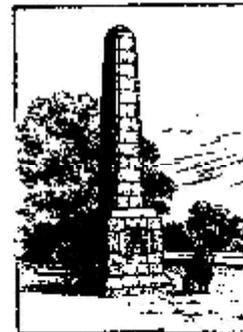

The key note of the whole memorial is simplicity, and strength without ornament. The obelisk was built on a concrete base with a concrete column which is thirty feet high, and is faced with Cornish granite.

On the 14th June 1923, His Royal Highness, The Prince of Wales visited the memorial whilst on his way to Coventry.

A service has been held every year since the unveiling, with the highest attendance in the 1920's and 1930's yet Meriden today is still one of the largest gatherings of cyclists in the country.

A bronze plaque was affixed to the memorial in 1963 to commemorate those cyclists who had died during World War Two.

ORDER OF SERVICE

The Welcome

Peter Wright, Lay Reader of St. Lawrence Church, Parish of Meriden and Packington.

Opening Prayer

Our Hymn: All people that on earth do dwell

All people that on earth do dwell,
Sing to the Lord with cheerful voice:
Him serve with fear, His praise forth bring,
Come ye before Him, and rejoice.

The Lord, he knows, is God indeed,
Whom our eyes had not seen,
Whom our hands had not felt,
And for his sheep he doth provide.

Thou Lord God, his gates with justice,
And open with Thy power,
Thou Lord God, and I have Thy name always,
For Thy name is so great.

For why? The Lord our God is great,
His mercy is forever sure,
His truth shall loose us firmly stand,
And shall from age to age endure.

To Father, Son and Holy Ghost,
The God whose heaven and earth contain,
From man and from his angel-host,
Be praise and glory ever given.

W. Kettle, Church Psalmist, 1911

Wreath bearers at the Cyclists' memorial

Time like an ever-flowing stream,
 Through life flows away,
 Then to depart, as a dream,
 From the open air.

O God, our help in ages past,
 O God, our hope for years to come,
 Be thou our guard while troubles last,
 And our eternal home.

Words

All praise and thanks to God
 The Father now be given,
 The Son, and him who reigns
 With them in highest heavens,
 The one eternal God,
 Whom earth and heaven adore,
 For thus it was, is now,
 And shall be evermore.

Prayers

The Lord's Prayer

3rd Hymn:

God, our Father, all our God
 NOW thank we all our God,
 Whose mercies lead us on,
 Whose wonders fill our soul,
 To whom his work returns,
 Whom all creation sings,
 Hath blessed us on our way,
 With signs and wonders,
 And still is ever true.

O easy and merciful God,
 Through all our life be near us,
 With ever joyful hearts,
 And bless us in our lives,
 And keep us in his grace,
 And guide us when we sleep,
 And let us wake again,
 To thy world in the morn.

A Collection for the Charity "Help for Heroes" will be taken during the singing of this Hymn.

National Anthem

GOD save our gracious Queen,
 Long live our noble Queen,
 God save our Queen,
 Send her victorious,
 Happy and glorious,
 Long to reign over us,
 God save our Queen.

Blessing

The Reverend Canon John Eardley.
