

Hill Climb and Freewheel Competitions

The competition was closely fought with Roy Bunnell just beating Dave Statham for the title – both have won in previous years so it was a battle between experts. Sue Booth won the ladies' event for a second year in spite of more ladies competing than in recent years.

Riders then went to the Three Pigeons pub for lunch and Mike Cross, in his role of Chester and North Wales CTC President, presented the prizes.

Thanks are due to all of the volunteers who help so readily every year, to Chris who started everyone safely, the time keepers, marshals and supporters, and most importantly, to the riders who took part.
